Little Girl Indulges In Sleeping Pills

BEISEKER — A rush trip was made Saturday evening by Pete Schmaltz, taking to the hospital the little girl of Mrs. Herman Ross. The child got hold of a box sleeping pills and quite a few were missing, so to be on the safe side, the child was rushed to Calgary. However, on examination by Dr. Milne, the child seemed to be alright, but was kept under observation for a few days.

This should be a warning to mothers to keep things of this sort out of children's reach.

By G. W. ROBERTSON

The little note this week will be directed at one item only, but that item is very important. It concerns the vaccination of calves for Brucellosis.

At the last meeting of the council plans were outlined for a vaccination program for the entire municipality. Dr. George S. Pepin of Drumheller was in attendance and pointed out some of the difficulties that were encountered last season. He is making his services available again this year.

The matter of organizing to carry out the program depends in part on every individual with cattle, even those with only one calf. A captain or man-in-charge will be appointed for each township. He will be paid for his services and will be responsible for performance. Any group of calves less than five in number will be taken to a neighbor to make up a larger group.

The program will get into operation as soon after harvest as possible. In the meantime the captains for the townships will be appointed and their names published. An attempt will be made to keep the public informed on progress at all times.

St. Mary's Rectory Scene Of Pretty Bridal

BEISEKER — A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, August 15, at St. Mary's Rectory, when Miss Dolores Brosteaux, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Brosteaux of Beiseker, became the bride of Alfred Kostrosky, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Kostrosky of Acme. Rev. Father Tennant performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a white nylon net ballerina-length dress with large white picture hat, white gloves and shoes. Her corsage of red roses. Miss Ethel Kostrosky, sister of the groom, her only attendant, was identical in a dress of pink nylon and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Mr. Desmond Brosteaux, brother of the bride, attended the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Memorial Hall. Father Tennant proposed the toast to the bride.

In the evening a reception was held for 150 guests in the Memorial Hall. Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. W. Harben, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Baker, Miss Valerie Baker, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. After a short honeymoon spent in the mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Kostrosky will reside in Acme.

Modern Machines Put Up Best Hay Crop

BEISEKER — Many modern machines were used last week in the Beiseker district to put up one of the best hay crops in years. Several farmers used power mowers and hydraulic stackers. The pick-up balers were introduced in the district for the first time by Matt Schmaltz, who put up 7,500 bales, weighing 60 lbs. each. Jack Wurtz (Big Jake) also bought one of these machines and many farmers had their hay baled.

Crops made very satisfactory progress in the past week, with no more hail reported. If frost will stay away until Sept. 1, it is estimated a crop of well over a million bushels will be harvested. Ry. swathing is well underway, and some had to be cut one way owing to lodging.

Need More Parks

In one way, Alberta doesn't need more provincial and national parks, because the province is already dotted with them. Jasper, Banff, Elk Island, Waterton Lakes and in the unsettled northern districts huge tracts of land are set aside for park and game preserve areas.

What this part of the province needs, however, is more smaller parks, properly developed for the common people of the province to use. Jasper Park and Banff are too far removed and, particularly with Jasper, too high priced for the family with less than $25.00 a day to spend on hotel accommodation.

The business men of Lac la Biche have promoted the idea of making a nearby island a provincial park. It could easily be connected to the mainland and to town by a causeway across a shallow strait and has sufficient area for hundreds of summer cottages. Fishing in Lac la Biche and other nearby lakes is good. The island is surrounded by golden sandy beaches. It is easily accessible to residents of the Athabasca, Boyle, Lac la Biche and outside areas.

Establishment of a number of Provincial Parks similar in purpose, but much smaller in area to Elk Island, which is a Dominion park, would be a good thing for people of this Province.

Strange Post Office Attitude

The Postmaster-General has effectively discouraged businessmen from sending circulars through the mail by raising the rate from 1c per piece to 1½c. The Post Office claimed they were losing money on the deal and won't guarantee delivery within four days from the date such mail is posted.

Insofar as the postmen make their rounds anyway, and other postal deliveries are made in the usual manner without third class mail matter, we don't see how the fact of the mailman delivering a few pieces of third class matter along with first and second class mail could increase the post office's expenses any. We can see where postal revenues can be disastrously reduced for no good purpose by not having this business. The deficits will be paid by the taxpayer without the service, which is a lot less desirable than getting something for taxes levied to pay for postal deficits.

Recent heavy increases in rates charged newspapers with postal privileges may increase postal revenues (at the expense of the subscriber, who will eventually pay with higher subscription rates). But in Prince Edward Island the Charlottetown Guardian has made a private deal with the mail couriers to deliver their papers to rural route patrons for less than what the post office would charge if the couriers carried the papers as part of their regular mail load. This is not only ridiculous but unfair to other publishers who haven't been able to make a similar deal with the couriers.

We don't see why the Post Office refuses to carry second and third class mail matter except at such high rates that it pays the patron to use private means of delivery. And if that private means of delivery includes the very men hired by the post office to do the job for certain publishers on an exclusive basis, it is downright silly. Why can't all the mail delivery be handled by the Post Office in the first place?

Hail Damage

If the present unsettled weather continues 1951 will undoubtedly be one of the worst hail years on record in Alberta. Up to the beginning of August an estimated million acres had been damaged, according to J. Glen Elder, chairman of the Alberta Hail Insurance Board. Fierce hail storms, accompanied in many cases by hurricane-like winds, struck on eighteen consecutive days in the latter part of July, and more storms have been reported since. Central and south central Alberta have borne the brunt of the damage, but other areas have not escaped, and probably the most damaging single storm lashed crops in the Beaverlodge district.

The areas hit represent about 8 per cent of Alberta's total seeded acreage. In 1930,

Mixed Notes

By JACK SCOTT

As any of you old O. O. McIntyre fans will remember, some of that entertaining man's most delightful stuff came under the casual heading of "Thoughts While Strolling," and I'd like to try something along those lines today.

Curious how a funeral procession on a sunny day seems so much more tragic than on a gloomy one. It's a fact that every top-flight dramatist knows. The most effective setting for a scene of terror is not the ghostly old haunted house in a lightning storm, but a children's playground in sunlight. I'm sorry that all that repetition so quickly killed the song "Ghost Riders In The Sky." It will surely be revived with success some future day. "A herd of red-eyed cows a-plowin' through the ragged skies and up a cloudy draw." What a grand line! Even Vaughn Monroe couldn't sour me on it.

Should be some sort of public recognition for the unsung inventive geniuses who make life simpler. I would nominate the humanitarian who brewed the first liquid mosquito repellent; the most important invention since Scotch tape. Why doesn't some smart airline like TCA give new passengers a little booklet explaining what's happening to them when they fly? Even veteran air travellers never know what all the sounds are about, why the engines change their tune after the take-off, or why (in the North Star) they confront the ruby-red of exhaust pipes in night flying. It would certainly be a step closer to fearless flight. The passenger feels a close sense of identity with the metal and fabric about him, might trust it a little more if he knew what it was there for.

What woman doesn't look more attractive in a French beret? One of the dying words is "Hello". Haven't heard anybody say anything but "Hi" or "Hiya" in many a moon.

Funny how a familiar view takes on new, fresh beauty and color if you happen to see it accidentally in a mirror. Have you ever seen the scenery behind you framed suddenly in the rear-view mirror of a car and found the image refreshing?

If I were the hobby type I'd surely start a collection of apt descriptive phrases, small chunks of prose that catch and hold a picture. Irwin Shaw, for example, recently wrote of "the lemony smell of floor wax." Or how about Ralph Allen's description of a surf "stroking" a sand beach? A line I liked recently, and can't remember the author, described a spaniel approaching its owner, "head down, shambling in a little ballet of love and prostration." Things I wish I'd written.

You'll be surprised at how many different answers you can get to the question, "What is the most absorbing thing to watch?" Some nominations: a graceful woman's walk, the colored flame of a driftwood beach fire, the flight of a seagull, the green wake of an ocean liner. Ever see an Englishman whose shoes weren't fiercely polished?

Certainly like to know the secret of the gasoline companies in finding such eager, pleasant station attendants. Bought one single gallon of gas the other day to get me home and the lad gave a dollar's worth of courtesy. And is it just my bad luck or are all waitresses nursing some dark and secret sorrow over life? Haven't had a smile from one in recent weeks.

Must do a column some day on male gossips versus female gossips. Seems to me that a group of males are just as catty about mutual acquaintances as the ladies. Maybe more. What a silly world when so many people spend so much of their time at the indoor sport of character assassination. Looks as if the day of the garage is over. Architect friend tells me that he hasn't designed a house in the last year that didn't have a "car port" open on all sides. Which raises the problem of what to do with all the useless things that used to end up in the garage.

Nothing has the freshness of unconscious humor, as for example the paragraph in a news story this week, which read as follows: "Mr. Campbell's defense counsel asked for clemency because his client has an amputated leg and has no other means of support.

Can never understand why so many people purchase the smooth and meaningless trash of the slick-paper magazines when the New Yorker magazine is available. In 15 years of reading that weekly I've never tired of its wise and tolerant view of life and the times. Has anybody ever figured out an answer to those hearty citizens who greet you with, "What's new?"

by far the worst year on record, about 17 per cent of the total acreage was hit.

The unusually large amount of hail this year is said by meteorologists to be due to the presence of a stationary mass of cold air from the north Pacific lying over Alberta. This cold air mixing with warmer air from the earth's surface has created the hail and thunderstorms.

VET'S PROTEST

Dear Sir—A point that does not appear to have received any attention in the press is that fact that while Iranian oil may be subject to nationalization, the same cannot be said of the big oil refinery at Abadan. It was built by British brains and British money, and should not be subject to Communist-inspired national hysterical confiscation.

It must be noted that in recent years it has always been the small nations that have been guilty of international piracy, under the guise of nationalism. When Britain was the policeman of the world, we had peace. But now new policemen have taken over who do not know where they are going.

WARNING

Dear Sir—Here's a warning to all the fur farmers of the Lac la Biche district. Join your Distemper Organization Plan this fall. You have distemper in your town now. Don't let it happen to you at a big cost. Attend your meetings. See your Freezer manager for details.

ANY VOLUNTEERS?

Dear Sir—I've just returned from the Korean front and learn that there actually are a few Communists in this country who have been rooting for our boys to get pushed out of Korea. I feel there should be an organization that would accept such characters as volunteers and give them Class A transportation to the Korean Communists they want to help. But I wonder if there would be any volunteers for this expedition, or are Canadian Communists good for talking only?

TEEN-AGE PROTEST

Dear Sir—We are writing this in answer to someone who wrote to your paper and said that teenagers were savages, as bad as Communists, and should be locked in asylums until they reach the age of 23 and developed their minds. We realize there are some bad teenagers, but why condemn us all?

Edmonton. TWINS.

PRICES UP, SECURITY DOWN

Dear Sir—Raises in wages, raises in taxes, raises in the cost of living, particularly as to food. Since this is so, what about a raise in the family allowance? Parents are finding it harder and harder to properly care for their children.

Daysland.

Dear Sir—The most rotten trick that Ottawa has ever pulled has just come off. War veterans who are 70 years or over, who are receiving war veterans' allowances and who apply for the universal old-age pension of $40 a month, will have their veterans' allowances reduced by the amount of the old-age pension. Although some of us will still be able to get medical aid, this looks to me like a typical rotten trick. And we were all told this new pension would be universal, with no means-test! What a rotten trick!

OLD VETERAN.

DOUBLE FOR SNITCHING

Dear Sir—The fuss reported in the papers about that Ohio woman who didn't want her 14-year-old darling disciplined in school makes me sick. That's just the kind of thing that makes juvenile delinquents. When I was 16 a high school teacher slapped me. I complained to mother, hoping she'd fix the teacher. Instead my mom promptly tanned me with a razor strap. Then I behaved.

W.H. Mannville.

Dear Sir—After reading the story in last week's Sun regarding the paving program on 118 Ave. and 66 St. I came to the conclusion that at least some progress is being made in Edmonton. But now I hear over the radio that city council is not satisfied with the paving on Connors Hill. Well, at least they're on their toes. Perhaps more qualified advice should be sought by the city before it undertakes paving jobs such as Connors Hill. There has already been considerable delay in getting this road open, and now it seems a further delay faces us.

Edmonton. SOUTH SIDER.

DEFENDING PETAIN

Dear Sir—As a French-Canadian who lived many years in France, let me set the record straight. Marshal Petain was no more of a traitor than the man in the moon. The real traitor of France was Leon Blum, the Socialist leader. Petain was an enemy of Communists, who were responsible for the fall of France. Ask any real Frenchman who is not a Socialist or a Red and he will tell you the same thing.

F. Lc. Morinville.

POOCHEES AND POISON

Dear Sir—Just a warning to gardeners who have pets around. Be careful of the beetle spray you use. I used some recently, didn't notice it contained a certain ingredient and it poisoned my dog. If you have pets and are in doubt about proper sprays, consult a veterinarian.

Governor-General Admitted To Blood Indian Tribe

Viscount Alexander, Governor General of Canada, has become the first white man in history to be admitted to Alberta's Blood Indian tribe.

ATTENDS CONVENTION

T. W. Pue, publisher of The Edmonton Sun and Community Publications, together with Mrs. Pue and their daughters, Dian and Betty Mae, are attending the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association annual convention in Winnipeg this week.

Delegates will be present from all parts of Canada, and a total attendance of about 500 is expected.

Civic and government dignitaries will be special guests at the convention. Guest speakers will include Hon. T. Campbell, premier of Manitoba, and Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.

At ceremonies at Standoff, south of Lethbridge, the governor was admitted to the tribe through the select Indian transfer-of-headress ceremony as 4,000 persons, many of them from the Blackfoot confederation, looked on.

Head Chief Shot-Both-Sides marked both the governor-general's cheeks with red paint to begin the ceremony. The tribal chief than took a headdress, placed it on his own head, and then on the governor-general's head to signify his official entrance into the Blood Indian tribe.

Viscount Alexander took the name of Chief Pit-o-to-kon—Chief Eagle Head. His two sons, Brian, 12, and Shane, 16, were admitted as "Eagle Speaker" and "Many Fingers."

ALBERTA SEA CADETS, ROYALTY WILL TRAVEL TOGETHER

The Empress of France, a 20,000-ton ocean liner, has carried many famous people in its day. On September 30 it will sail from England with Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, and the party of Lac la Biche sea cadets headed by Rev. Fr.

Worthless Stock Sales Feared in Alberta As Racketeers Renew Western Operations

Albertans should ignore long-distance telephone calls from Ontario stock salesmen who may be pedalling worthless stocks.

That's the advice from brokers here who warn that a current Ontario legislative probe into stock racketeers may bring about renewed efforts to develop their fraudulent operations in the west.

The probe being conducted by the Ontario crime committee may be cutting off the stock racketeers from operating in the U.S., thus forcing them to confine their operations to this country.

Alberta government officials were silent on the matter as official statements would be considered "improper" while the judicial investigation is on.

Nevertheless, Albertans should be on guard against high pressure salesmanship by telephone, telegraph or mail. Eastern stock salesmen using telephone or similar methods to conclude deals are likely peddling stocks not qualified in Alberta.

Prospective buyers are advised to check with their own local brokers before making any purchases.

Oil Drillers Never Stay In One Place

REGINA, Sask.—(BUP)—Women who want to settle down in one place and make a home should not marry oil drillers, oil drillers' wives said here.

They complained they're always on the move while their husbands try to find new sources of oil. Drillers might be sent to work anywhere from the southern states to northwestern Canada.

Naturally this makes things hectic for the wives. They no sooner get junior started at a school when he has to be off. Sometimes the children of oil drillers attend five schools in one year. But the constant changing doesn't seem to bother them.

Whatever other complaints they may have, the wives of drillers don't complain that their lives are dull. On the other hand most of them don't see much glamor in it. But one girl, who had been travelling by trailer from one place to another for the past four years, said life as an oil driller was like a circus.

The tip of the tongue is the most delicate organ of touch.

91-Year-Old Man May Take Pension

WINNIPEG, Man.—(BUP)—A 91-year-old Winnipeg man picked up one of the forms for Canada's new old age security plan—just in case.

Alex Jamieson, who has never drawn an old age pension, still puts in a full day at his collection agency.

He wasn't sure, however, whether he would bother filling out the form. "I think I have enough money to last me the rest of my days. I just don't know this pension question. I might apply for it after all," he said.

Under the new plan, anyone over the age of 70, not now receiving an old age pension, gets $40 a month regardless of means, beginning January 1.

ALTA. PAPERS WIN HONORS

WINNIPEG — Alberta newspapers received honors in the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association "better newspaper competition" here during the group's annual convention.

Well up on the list of papers accorded honors were those published by T. W. Pue, publisher of The Edmonton Sun and Community Publications.

The Lac la Biche Herald and The Morinville Journal were judged the second and third best Alberta papers in their circulation classification. The Lac Ste Anne Chronicle and The Crossfield Chronicle were also judged the second and third best Alberta weeklies in their circulation group.

Winner of the all-round competion as the best Canadian weekly newspaper was The Barrie Examiner.

Other Alberta papers honored were The Drumheller Mall (third best editorial page) and The Claresholm Local Press (third best all-round paper.)

Mr. Pue has been attending the convention in company with Mrs. Pue and their daughters, Dian and Betty Mae.

Mr. Pue holds ten memberships in the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, largest group of memberships held by any individual publisher in Canada.

The Edmonton Sun, not having been established the required two years for membership, is not a member of the CWNA.

In commenting on Mr. Pue's papers, the Judges said his papers "reflect credit on the editor and publisher."

"Is your daughter musical?" "Well, you'd get that impression from hearing her conversation, but when she sings, opinions differ."

Confused

Clerk—You say you want a ochre—red ochre like you use to paint bricks."

Tommy—Now; it's tappy ochre. Mom wants to make a pudding with it.

Just a Reminder

"What's that piece of string tied round your finger for, Bill?"

"That's a knot. For-get-me-not is a flower. With flour you can make bread, and with bread you have cheese. This is to remind me to buy some pickled onions."

Clean People

Mistress: "You place a finger bowl at each corner of the table, Mary, I suppose they used finger bowls at your last place?"

Mary: "Oh, no, mum! They always washed before they came to the table."

The Truth

"Do you say your prayers every night, Trudy?" asked the minister.

"Oh, no, Mummy says them for me," answered Trudy.

"Indeed; and what does she say?" he queried.

"Thank God you're in bed" was the prompt reply.

His Unlucky Number

"I've never had a chance," said the man with the hang-dog expression. "No matter what I do my unlucky number pops up and gets me into trouble."

"What is your unlucky number?"

"Thirteen. Twelve jurors and one judge."

LETTER TO LOUISA

Girl Will Make Mistake If She Marries Drunkard

Dear Louisa—I am going with a very attractive boy and am in love with him.

He wants me to marry him but I can't make up my mind because he has one fault.

He makes a good salary and is very polite, and nice to people until he drinks too much. Then he becomes very rude, even to me. He has promised that he will stop drinking after I marry him but my mother says if he won't stop before marriage, he will never quit afterwards.

I really do love him very much but I don't want to be the wife of a drunkard.

Do you think he will keep his promise?

A. B. L.

Answer:

No I don't think he will keep his promise. Nine out of ten men and women who drink to excess will lie about that when they tell the truth about other things.

If your young man is honest about reforming, he will show his good faith by doing so before you are married and not waiting until you can't help yourself.

If I were you, I'd try him for a year and, if he keeps his word to you that long, I think you will be reasonably safe in marrying him.

LOUISA.

Alberta Firm Producing 'Tri-Focal' Eye Glasses

CALGARY, Alta.—(BUP)—Three-in-one glasses have arrived.

Naturally, they're known as "tri-focal" glasses, since they go one step further than bi-focals.

Bi-focals are designed to allow the wearer to see objects both at a distance and close at hand. The tri-focal lenses will make objects clearer in the intermediate range.

The break in focusing the eyes is made more gradual, and because of this, the tri-focals are tagged with the fancy name of "continuous vision lenses."

The lenses are being prescribed for persons over 50, because from that age on it becomes increasingly difficult to adapt one's eyes to changes in distances.

Despite the advantages, Calgary optometrist S. Alwyn Bartlett said there were some drawbacks. "I don't think it will be a lens that everyone will want," he said.

"For one thing, they are about twice the price of ordinary bi-focals, and for some people it is necessary to learn to use them to the best advantage."

R. H. Morrison, another optometrist, said the lenses were easier on the eyes than bi-focals.

A third optometrist, L. F. deForest, said, "They require a little more care in fitting, but they do clear that intermediate range which bothers people when they reach the 60 to 70 year age."

DeForest pointed out that the new type of glasses were being used at present as "occupational lenses."

Druggists, accountants and others buying them were required to see things at the different ranges the glasses cover.

Winnipeg Mail Boxes
Keeps Big City Clean

WINNIPEG, Man.—(BUP)—Winnipeg's mail boxes are one of the reasons the city is regarded as one of the tidiest in Canada.

Winnipeg postal authorities keep a separate record book of all the spectacles, liquor permits, wallets, and even money that goes through the slots of the city's 370 mail boxes.

Each year, hundreds of untraced articles are turned over to the police department. These include tulip bulbs, jewelry, accessories, and keys that would open a thousand doors.

Vatican Is Said To Select Canada As Haven

ROME—Plans to safeguard the continuity of the Vatican administration in the event Rome is invaded by a power such as the Soviet Union have been ready for years, prelates said here this week. The plans are of course secret, but it is believed the church would be moved to a site in Canada, probably Quebec, if war should break out.

Canada May Make Own Laminated Skis

QUEBEC CITY, Que.—(BUP)—Canada may produce by next year its own adaptation of loosely laminated skis.

Fritz Loosli, chief ski instructor of the Chateau Frontenac hotel Ski Hawks club, has been asked by the Peterborough Canoe Company of Peterborough, Ontario, to supervise new methods of their manufacture this summer.

INDIANS TO GET MORE FREEDOM

OTTAWA — (BUP)—Canada's 136,000 Indians will take a big step along the road to self-government when the new Indian Act goes into force September 4.

The new act, first major overhaul of Indian legislation in 71 years, was passed at the last session of parliament.

According to Citizenship Minister Harris, who guided the act through parliament, the Indians now will have greater powers over their own property and their own affairs.

"The aim of the new act is to bring the Indians, by progressive steps, into a position of social, political and economic equality with other Canadians," Mr. Harris said.

Some of the changes: The right to vote in band council elections is extended to Indian women.

Indian bands now can be authorized to have complete control over the spending of band revenue money.

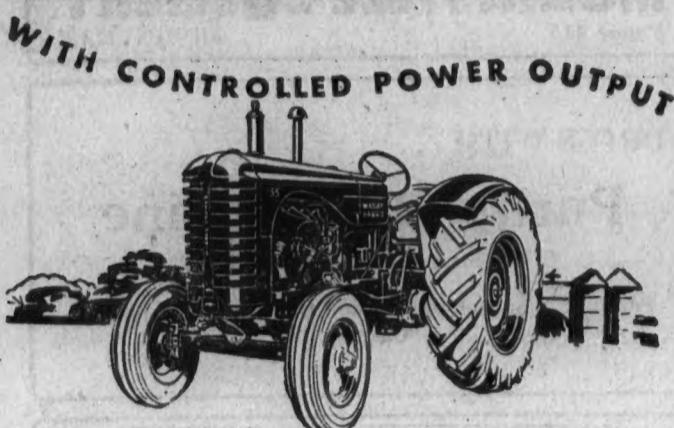

Indians will become freer citizens as a result of the act, but will remain, in general, wards of the state.

New Canadian Facts Tell About Country

That eight of Canada's ten provinces border on salt water is one of the little realized facts about Canada pointed out in the new issue of Quick Canadian Facts, the handbook of facts about this country.

As with former issues of the annual pocket book, the main contents of the 1951-1952 edition of Quick Canadian Facts is a compilation of up-to-date facts about the Dominion, the provinces, government, trade and industry, natural resources, the population, finance and taxes, and all significant aspects of Canadian life. Distributed through bookstores and newsstands, the new issue of Quick Canadian Facts is this week released across the country.

The standard of living in Canada has gone up by 50% over the past ten years; in the U.S. the increase has been less than one-third.
